Section E: Privacy notice

‘Personal information’ is defined in the Privacy Act 1988 and includes information or an opinion about an identified individual, or an individual who is reasonably identifiable.

The department collects your personal information in relation to this form for the purposes of seeking submissions on the draft default guideline value and related purposes.

You are under no obligation to provide personal information but if you do not, the department will be unable to contact you to discuss or respond to your submission and will be unable to acknowledge you as the author of the submission.

The department may disclose your personal information to other Australian agencies, persons or organisations where necessary for these purposes, provided the disclosure is consistent with relevant laws, in particular the Privacy Act 1988.

The department may generally publish your submission, or part thereof, including your personal information, on the Water Quality Guidelines website, which is administered by the department, unless you have indicated that you do not consent to this.

Information published on the website may be available to overseas recipients. Overseas recipients may not be accountable under the Privacy Act and you may not be able to seek redress.

In providing a submission, you are consenting to your personal information being used and disclosed, including being published.

Your personal information will be used and stored in accordance with the Privacy Principles.

Under the Freedom of Information Act 1982, submissions marked confidential may be made available. Such requests will be determined in accordance with provisions under that Act.

See the department’s Privacy Policy to learn more about accessing or correcting personal information or making a complaint. Alternatively, telephone the department on +61 2 6272 3933.
